5 Surprising Reasons Empaths Attract Toxic People

Often, empaths attract toxic people or people who tend to take advantage of their leniency and kind heart.

Empaths attract the wrong and toxic people like a magnet. This is enough to break them down, but they survive it because they have found themselves and need no good in return to be good.

TAKING RESPONSIBILITY FOR THEIR ACTIONS

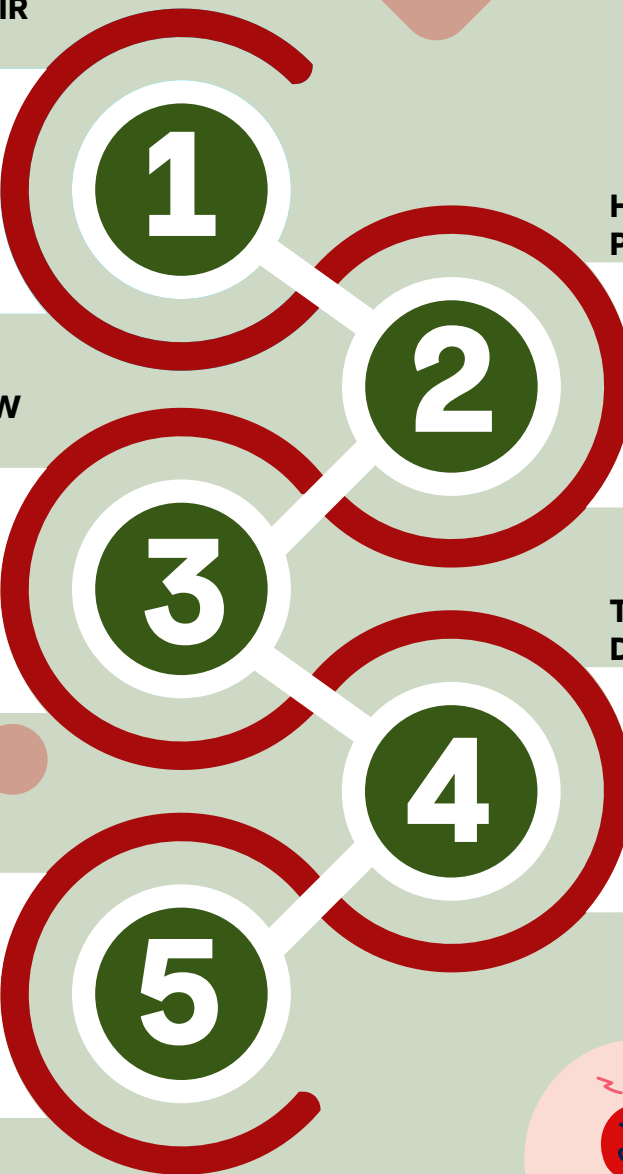

Anyone who relates to an empath is always confident the empath would come back to show remorse and make peace. Making them the perfect target for narcissists and toxic people.

THEY DO NOT WANT TO GO BELOW WHAT THEY ARE KNOWN FOR

Understanding that they are the healers of the society - this makes them poke nose into the businesses of others which they should not just do. Sometimes it just looks like they are problem Scouters, then they fall into the wrong people most of the time.

ATTRACTING BROKEN PEOPLE

Empaths attract people who are not in the best state of mind very quickly. They even try to protect the person(s) who broke the rule(s).

HIJACKING OTHER PEOPLE'S PROBLEMS

Their innate desire to buy other people's problem and hang it all around them makes them perfect target for emotional manipulators.

THEY REGARD OTHERS AS BEING DESCENT AND GOOD AS THEY ARE

They think everyone else has good intents just like they do. Empaths are often convinced with the first approach; they never take time to scrutinize the authenticity of people they come across.
